Are you a temporary resident permanently departing Australia? If so, this fact sheet provides you with the information you need to claim your Triple S entitlement. Note Australian and New Zealand citizens are not able to claim their entitlement under permanent departure rules.

Australian and New Zealand citizens 55 years of age or more

Complete and return to Super SA the Triple S Application for Payment form, available on the Super SA website.

Australian and New Zealand citizens under 55 years of age

Australian and New Zealand citizens are not able to cash their benefit under permanent departure from Australia rules.

You can claim your Member and Employer Accounts at age 55 and your Rollover and Co-contribution Accounts from your preservation age (see the table on the right).

If you resign under age 55, you can claim your Member Account if you do so within three months of resigning. To claim your Member Account, complete and return to Super SA the Triple S Application for Payment form, available on the Super SA website.

Temporary residents returning overseas permanently

If you held an eligible temporary resident visa that has expired or been cancelled and you are residing out of Australia and will continue to do so on a permanent basis, you can claim your entitlement by completing both of the following forms:

1. Triple S Application for Payment form, available on the Super SA website, and the
2. Departing Australia Superannuation Payment (DASP) online application, available on the Australian Taxation Office (ATO) website.

Super SA will not be able to pay your benefit until these forms have been completed and we receive confirmation from the ATO or Department of Home Affairs that your application has been accepted.

You will be required to provide proof of identity when applying for the payment of a cash entitlement. See the Proof of Identity fact sheet, available on the Super SA website for more information.

Please note

- Different tax rules apply to amounts paid as a result of DASP claims.
- You can only apply to claim your entitlement after you have left Australia. However, it is advisable that you obtain and read the required forms before you leave Australia.

If you require any further information or assistance, please contact Super SA on 1300 369 315.

Your preservation age depends on your date of birth:
